Hardly has anything been more of a shock to our town than was the message which flashed over the wires about noon Tuesday, from near Pongo, that Manly Albright was instantly killed at Bullock's saw mill. Manly left here Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock, hale and hearty, but was soon cut down.

He was 25 years of age and a son of Mrs. Mary Albright. He was a traveling salesman for Stratton & Terstege Hardware Co., of Louisville, and was on one of his business trips when killed. Just how he was caught in the mill machinery is not known, but it is presumed the wind blew a portion of his overcoat near a shaft which was making about 500 revolutions per minute, catching his coat and pulling him down literally breaking every bone in his body. The remains were brought here and met by Mr. J. C. McClary who prepared them for burial. They were taken and interred in the McKinney cemetery Thursday. Several from Mt. Vernon including Misses Alza and Susie Thompson, Mrs. John W. Brown and Mr. A. B. Furnish accompanied the remains here and several from here went to the funeral at McKinney. ## HUSTONVILLE.

Hemp breaking is in full blast and every available hand is being used at good wages.

Of Christian charity
Throughout the West End.

In distress or disease
Every ache they will ease
And a helping hand lend.

The numerous friends of Mr. John Dinwiddie will regret to learn of his serious illness. He has a wide circle of acquaintances, is a prominent member of the Christian church and a member of the city council until recently.

In the interest of good roads why does not Kentucky follow the splendid example set by Virginia? In a meeting held in Richmond recently a complete State organization was effected with $10,000 pledged and the Legislature asked to appropriate $500,000 more for good roads. A campaign of education on the subject to awaken the people to the needs of better management that will result in better roads should be made.

At J. S. Underwood's sale Saturday, stock brought fair prices, sheep sold at $6.75. A good crowd attended. The sale of Charles Lutes Saturday was well attended and bidding lively. Thirty sheep sold at $6.50, cows $25 and up, one pony brought $45, four horses were taken down to await the combination sale. Household goods sold at fair prices. Mr. Lutes left for Canada Wednesday, where he will make his future home. McCormack, Myers & Vaughn shipped last week one car of cattle they bought at 2 1/2 to 4c, two cars of hogs at 5c. To try and arrest the ravages of the great white plague, on Dec. 12, 1908, Police Judge Val B. Morse, accompanied by his devoted mother left here for Deming, N. M. The unfavorable weather there, in spite of the close attention of the best physicians, caused a rapid decline and he passed into the great beyond, from which none ever return, on March 11th, aged 25. Some days before his death he asked to be "taken home to die," but his physicians said he would die en route. Mrs. Morse, with the remains arrived Tuesday morning and after an impressive funeral service by Rev. W. S. Willis at the Christian church, a large concourse of sorrowing friends attended the burial in Hustonville cemetery. The floral offerings were exceedingly profuse and beautiful.

Softly the stars will gleam
Upon his quiet grave,
Where he sleeps without a dream,
The son she could not save.
The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community. Val Morse joined the church at the age of 14, and during the latter part of his life gave conclusive evidence of that conversion that is imbued with hope in eternal life, for he feared not death. He was loved by all his associates and was true as steel to his friends under any and all circumstances and never did any intentional injury to any one. The largest procession here in years followed his remains to their last resting place.

CHAIRMAN G. L. PENNY has been unable so far to get a meeting of the democratic chairmen of this judicial district, notwithstanding the fact that he has made three calls and has been to Danville twice to meet the other chairmen. To the first and second calls Chairmen James I. Hamilton and Lee Curry, of Garrard and Mercer, respectively, sent reasons for their absence but they ignored the last one, which was for a meeting Tuesday. Mr. Penny has requested the gentlemen to meet Tuesday and we hope all four of the chairmen will be present. In justice to Chairman Chennault Huguey, who like Mr. Penny, is for Judge Saufley in the race for judge, we will state that he has been present at each meeting. From what we can gather, Chairmen Hamilton and Curry are for Judge Bell. We are not informed as to why they desire to postpone action as to the time and method of nominating a candidate for circuit judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, but trust they have reasons that will prove satisfactory to their democratic constituency.

THE Pennsylvania Steel Company, employing 6,000 men, one of the largest of the independent companies, has announced a 10 per cent. reduction in wages, effective April 1. Va., Pulp & Paper Co. has closed down indefinitely, throwing 300 men out of employment. And this in the face of the good times promised by the Taft administration.

As chairman of a committee appointed by the New York section of the National Civic Federation, Miss Morgan has just received her authorization from the Government to carry out this plan, which aims to provide for the men who work in the navy yard better food at less money than they can now obtain.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S message on tariff revision was sent to Congress Tuesday. The message is brief, the President contenting himself with urging Congress to take speedy action in revising the tariff and suggesting that other matters be sidetracked until the tariff bill is passed.

EDITOR NATHANIEL B. SEWELL has retired from the editorial management of the London Democrat and will go with Ginn & Co., school book publishers. This leaves our good friend, John Pearl, alone on the paper but he is equal to the occasion.

WHITE.—Mrs. James I. White died at her home on Logan Avenue at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of some weeks. She had been in declining health for a year or more. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. H. H. Baker, of Rockcastle, and is survived by her father, husband and six children: Mrs. J. H. Colyer, Miss Miranda White and Messrs. Harris, James, Robert and Hobart White. The loss is a crushing one and great sympathy is felt for the family. Mrs. White was a devout member of the Baptist church and a most excellent woman. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church there, after which the body of the good wife and mother will be consigned to mother earth in the Mt. Vernon cemetery.

THE following sent from Cynthia makes Mr. M. S. Baughman, who is contesting the nomination for sheriff of Mr. W. L. McCarty, feel that he yet has a chance to have the ballots cast in the primary of Feb. 6 counted, as he is determined to take the case to the courts. The cases are similar: "In the circuit court Judge Fryer decided that the Harrison County Democratic Committee had not fulfilled their duty when they did not hear evidence in the case in which James A. Daugherty is contesting the nomination at the November primary, and directed the chairman to call the committee to meet not later than March 23 and hear the evidence on which Daugherty bases his claims. Mason was declared the nominee last November, the face of the returns showing him to be the winner by 34 votes over two opponents, but at the time Daugherty gave notice of his intention to contest, and after several meetings of the committee, at which nearly all the time was taken up by the committee decided that Daugherty had no claim and dismissed the petition. This was followed by the case being taken to the circuit court, and now Chairman Terry has called a meeting for March 23rd at 9 A. M., at the court house to hear the proof. Daugherty has to offer." A later dispatch says Mr. Mason will appeal the case.

PLEASANT OCCASION.—Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Grimes entertained the faculty of the Stanford Graded School Friday evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather each one reported on time in order to further establish reputation for promptness and to be assured that no good thing would be missed. To lend dignity to the occasion the pastors of the host and hostess were present, Rev. J. L. Yandell and Rev. D. M. Walker and wife. True hospitality was evinced and verily an era of good feeling prevailed. Preacher, pedagogue and patron laid aside for the nonce the characteristic manner of their several stations and a genuine feeling of true social interest was enjoyed. A dinner suitable for the most pronounced epicurean was spread before the guests and each one felt that it was good to be there and showed their faith by their works. After an evening of unalloyed pleasure and many expressions of good will, the guests left feeling that it was not so bad after all to be a school teacher. The following were present: Rev. D. M. Walker and wife, Mr. J. W. Ireland and wife, Rev. J. L. Yandell, Mrs. H. D. Phillips, Misses McKinney, Dunn, Palmer, Eaton, Adams, Ballou, Fetter and Mr. Wigginton.

HUFFMAN.—In our Tuesday's issue brief mention was made of the death of Mrs. A. G. Huffman, of Louisville, but formerly of this place. She had been sick for a week but was not considered dangerously ill and was alone in her room when she became suddenly worse. Physicians were hurriedly summoned but nothing could be done for her, as life was almost extinct when they arrived. It is not known what caused her death but the general belief is that apoplexy was the trouble. Deceased was a daughter of the late E. H. Burnside, of this place, and her girlhood days were spent in Stanford. Some 22 years ago she ran off with and married Mr. Huffman and three children are the fruit of that union, viz: Mrs. Jamie Carpenter, of the East End, and Miss Kittie Huffman and Master Burnside Huffman, of Louisville. For them and the husband unbounded sympathy is felt. Mrs. Huffman was an ideal wife and a kind, gentle and indulgent mother and her affection for her husband and children was beautiful indeed. She was one of those sacrificing women, who gave all of her time and talent to her family, entirely forgetting self. Few, if any, better women have lived in this community. May the sod lie gently on her grave. Deceased was about 45 years old and had for years been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. The remains were brought through here Wednesday and taken to Lancaster where they were laid beside the father and mother, who had preceded them to the land that is fairer than day. Rev. J. L. Yandell prayed and spoke briefly at the grave. A large number of friends from here attended the burial and floral contributions were numerous and beautiful. May He Who doeth all things well comfort and care for the bereaved husband and children.

THE moving picture show has an unusually good program for to night. Do not fail to see it.

A Tribute to My Dear Son, Val.

I, his father, who knew him so intimately, worked with him daily, and loved him so well, am in position to say of him what strangers can not. He loved and honored his parents, respected true womanhood, was truthful and honest. To his legion of friends, always responsive without hypocrisy, patient when suffering, thoughtful even then of his sick sister. God had need for him, and these memories are ours. Lovingly, V. B. MORSE.
